

THE 23RD PHILIPPINE WORLD BUILDING AND CONSTRUCTION EXPOSITION

WORLD BEX

POST EVENT REPORT

ORGANIZED BY:

INTRODUCTION

Leading at the forefront of innovation, the Philippine World building and Construction Expo or simply WORLDBEX continues to play a significant role in elevating the way we build and design our spaces. For its 23rd year, WORLDBEX once again demonstrated its capacity to deliver no less than a world-class trade experience for trade practitioners and enthusiasts alike.

Centering on the theme of “Shaping Innovations Toward Sustainability”, WORLDBEX 2018 sought to promote among the construction and design community a perspective that deems mindful innovation as a sustainable philosophy in their practices. Gathering a total of 505 local exhibitors and 270 international exhibitors from countries such as China, Malaysia, Korea, Singapore, Denmark, Spain, Indonesia, Thailand, New Zealand, and UAE, WORLDBEX 2018 was able to showcase close to 1,500 booths.

As a further testament of the show’s brimming success, this year’s WORLDBEX not only managed to attract close to 200,000 visitors but also, it noted a 25% increase in international exhibitors, a 12% increase in local exhibitors, and a 20% increase in the total number of booths. For WORLDBEX, this only marks the beginning of bigger things to come especially as it gears up to celebrate its Silver Anniversary.

My warmest to the organizers, participants and trade visitors of the 23rd Philippine World Building and Construction Exposition (WORLDBEX).

This exciting gathering coincides with the government's unprecedented infrastructure development program that aims to improve connectivity and create more opportunities for growth. By bringing together leading trade professionals from all over the world, this event highlights the industry's important role in our nation-building efforts.

May this year's WORLDBEX not only showcase the latest innovation and trends in the market, but also deepen the partnership between the public and private sectors boosting our economy and empowering our communities.

The government counts on our allies in the building and construction industry to ensure the successful implementation of our national agenda. Together, let us further create vital linkages in this field as we move forward to achieve lasting change.

I wish you a productive expo.

Each year, we are happy to say that we are growing bigger, better, and bolder than ever. A testament to this is how we have gone from merely conducting our shows at a single venue to now being held in the three mega venues of World Trade Center, Philippine Trade Training Center, and SMX Convention Center. Truly, I can say that WORLDBEX 2018 is the biggest construction exposition in the country!

But beyond all this, I am proud to present to you the great things that are in store for all of you as we return for our 23rd year. As you might already know, this year's theme is "Shaping Innovations Toward Sustainability". This theme was born out of our goal to unite the construction and design industry to not only think outside the box but likewise become prepared and equipped to cope with the changes of our times.

Moreover, as we are likewise gearing up for our silver anniversary, we ultimately seek to inspire all of you to join us in considering what needs to be done to improve traditional perspectives. And thus open up the industry to more forward-thinking concepts that will bolster our industry to true progress.

Indeed, we are well on our way in transforming our industry for the better and we are happy to be on this journey with all of you. And so, without further ado, allow me to personally welcome all of you to the 23rd WORLDBEX!

- A highlight of WORLDBEX that caters to the most promising market of the construction and design industry - the students. Yearly, students will be asked to create a design unique to them to address the current issues and/or concerns of the urban community.

BAM HOUSE: A Disaster Resilient Housing Design

This house strategy was designed for the Philippine context. The project attempts to create a 5.00 x 5.00 m (main module) single unit that is strong enough to withstand an earthquake and a 5 meter high floor. The proposal derived from bahay-kubo that utilizes local bamboos such as giant bamboo, bolo and kawayang-tinik.

Bangsamoro Commission stands with the Cordillerans

The Bangsamoro Commission (BCom) has expressed its support for the Cordillerans in their fight against illegal logging and mining in the Cordillera region.

BCom Chairman, Hon. Raul S. Mangalona, said the Commission is committed to ensuring the sustainable development of the Cordillera region.

Mangalona said the Commission will continue to work with the Cordillerans to address their concerns and ensure their rights are protected.

Water shortage affects mining sites in Camp 3

A water shortage has affected mining sites in Camp 3, a mining area in the Cordillera region.

The shortage is due to a lack of rainfall and the depletion of water resources in the area.

Mining companies in the area are struggling to maintain their operations due to the lack of water.

Local residents are also affected by the shortage, as they rely on the water for their daily needs.

Group criticizes BFAR's 'weak' stance on PHL Rise exploration

A group of environmentalists has criticized the Bureau of Fisheries and Aquaculture (BFAR) for its weak stance on the exploration of the Philippine Rise (PHL Rise).

The group, led by the Philippine Environmental Movement (PEM), said BFAR's approach is inadequate and does not take into account the potential environmental impacts of the exploration.

PEM said the exploration of the PHL Rise could result in the depletion of fish stocks and the destruction of marine ecosystems.

The group is calling for a more comprehensive and sustainable approach to the exploration of the PHL Rise.
